MISS WILSON WEDES WM. G. MADDO IN WHITE HOUSE TODAY

Miss Nancy Lane, the daughter of Governor and Mrs. W. G. Lane, will attend the bride as flower girl. They will be attended in exquisite style. The bride will be escorted to the altar by her father, the governor of the United States. As the beautiful ceremony unfolded, the bride and groom were surrounded by the guests of the White House. Mr. Madison, Mr. McAdoo, and his best friend, Mr. C. V. Dwyer, Jr., an intimate friend of the secretary and of the president.

An informal reception will follow the ceremony, after which the bride party assembled guests at a large and sumptuous wedding supper to be served in the state dining room. Both the room and the great dining table will be superbly decorated, and the latter, particularly, will be a vision in sparkling cut-crystal, silverware and rose flowers.

LEAVE ON HONEYMOON.

Later in the evening, Secretary McAdoo and his bride will leave Washington for a brief honeymoon trip. It is expected they will remain long away from Washington, as it is known the secretary's official duties in the early with reference to the federal reserve board will demand his presence in the national capital.

The bride's gown is a superb creation of ivory satin, adorned with many rows of emerald and diamond lace, and elegant design. The gown has a sweeping train, several yards in length. The satin which softly drapes the bodice is drawn into a point below the shoulders, leaving a V-shaped opening at the back and front. Soft folds of tulle finish this opening, and there is a tunic of tulle made on the new, long, and the sleeves, which are made of tulle musqueletted. The lace is applied with exquisite grace. It is draped over the right shoulder, and runs down the bodice to the left side of the waist, where it is caught with a spray of orange blossom. Below the waist, it falls as a border to the tulle tunic. A novel feature of the lovely costume will be the oval wreath of orange blossoms in cap from which the long tulle will be draped.

Practically the sole ornament to be worn by the bride will be a necklace of diamonds, the gift of the bridegroom. Miss Wilson will carry a wonderful flower bouquet of lilies of the valley, white orchids and fern fronds.

ROMANCE IN WEDDING.

More than a century of romantic White House history will form a fitting halo for the bride couple in the ceremony of today. Accompanied by the authorities, Miss Eleanor Wilson will be the twentieth bride to marry in the White House. In the identical room where she today will take the husband of her choice, in the identical room where Frances Folsom became the wife twenty-eight years ago, of President William Howard Taft. (Governor Cleveland, and only a few months the sister of the bride.) Today, Miss Jessie Wilson, was united in marriage to the son of the late room of the White House to Francis B. Wilson.

The White House is hallowed in the memory of one other May bride, who married in the East Room to the English gentleman, Algernon C. E. Sartoris. Today's wedding will be unique in respect to the principals, as Miss Wilson will be the first daughter of a president of the United States to be joined in marriage to a member of the cabinet.

PERJURY CHARGES IN FRANK'S CASE WILL BE ORDERED PROBED

Third man of the Birmingham trio, who was the case were that he had pointed out Bernard to New Garner, attaché of the British legation, the man who impersonated the chief of the Birmingham detectives, and Barker had sworn to Kopp's identification in an affidavit.

Kopp and he also took the witness stand in the boy's behalf.

Mr. Bernard has been completely exonerated of all complicity in the deal by the sworn statement of C. W. Burke and Jimmy Wren, two defense attorneys, who admit they were present when Kopp made the Birmingham affidavit. They both agree that the third man was Austin Dennison, a New York detective.

TANGO ROOTS OUT CORNS PAINLESSLY

Don't Pick and Gorge and Torture Your Toes—Use TANGO.

TANGO for Corns is the most marvelous remedy of the age. No wonder everybody is enthusiastic about it. One touch of TANGO on a corn ends your suffering. Applied in the second and it's done. No plaster or salve to fuss with, nothing to stick to the hose and be jerked from the sore toe with excruciating agony. No swelling and tenderness. Never use a point or blade, because the risk is too great. A slip of the instrument and a drop of blood may cause many "sore" of blood poison.

TANGO is the safe remedy that roots out the core of the corn, painlessly. It softens the hard and kills it out. The root, core and the corn is gone forever. No pain, no fuss, no sore, no danger.

TANGO is the safest and surest remedy for corns and bunions, the one GUARANTEED remedy. Any druggist will return your money if TANGO fails to root out the CORE of the corn, painlessly. At all Druggists. Made and guaranteed by Jacobs' Pharmacy, Atlanta—(Adv.)

REBELS ON MARCH TO CAPTURE TOWNS RULED BY HUERTA

ammunition from the fleeing column and evacuated Monterey.

The Carranza report did not outline to what extent his forces were opposed. In many quarters here, the Carranza report is interpreted as indicating that the rebels entered the city without opposition. No casualties on either side were mentioned.

After receiving all the chief's report, Minister Zuharran was emphatic in a forecast that within the next month the rebel army would be investing Huerta's capital. Meanwhile it was believed the rebel military chief would strike west at Saltillo, where federal troops remained.

He would hurl his forces at Tampico, a port of that city would give the rebel army a port of entry unaffected by a limited embargo on importation of arms now enforced along the Rio Grande.

Minister Zuharran today estimated that more than forty thousand rebel troops now were on the march.

Villa, he said, had 14,000 soldiers in North-Central Mexico. Gonzales 15,000 troops operating on the west coast. The rebel minister's outline of the disposition of Carranza's forces was aimed at dissipation of the general idea in the United States that the rebel army was in Chihuahua.

He asserted that Zapala's rebels were cooperating with the constitutional forces of Mexico City. With Carranza, the rebel minister's outline of the disposition of Carranza's forces was aimed at dissipation of the general idea in the United States that the rebel army was in Chihuahua.

The reports came as a surprise to many observers, because it was believed the rebels' next move would be aimed at Saltillo. News of a sweeping victory far south of that point was taken to indicate the rebels had moved silently, fought first and reported afterward. General Villa expressed his Carranza hoped to continue the campaign until the three powerful forces converged to hammer simultaneously at the gates of Mexico City.

To what extent Huerta will combat the proposed advance and what possibilities it might have on the proceedings between the United States and the Mexican federal, was widely discussed here today.

Immediately after the reading of the minutes of the preceding day, Bishop Wilson announced the action of a committee to consider the Vanderbilt university case, called for under a resolution introduced by Dr. A. J. Lamm, in accordance with the recommendation in the Episcopal magazine.

A committee on fraternal correspondence, announced as follows: H. C. Stuart, S. R. Hay, W. S. Young, R. W. Millspaugh and Am. G. Candler.

Dr. William Bradford, fraternal delegate from the British Wesleyan church, was introduced to the conference and delivered the greetings from the British church.

CHURCH UNION.

The report of the committee on church federation, of which Bishop Strass, and Dr. Frank M. Thomas, Kentucky, secretary, reviewed the history of the relations between the two Methodist churches since 1844, when the general conference of the Methodist Episcopal church refused to recognize Dr. Lovick Pierce as fraternal delegate from the M. E. church, south, it presented the report of the Synod commission, which laid the foundation for all subsequent relations between the churches and set out the suggestions prepared by the joint committee, representing the M. E. Church, south, and Protestant-Methodist churches, looking toward the reunion of the two churches by the method of reorganization.

In the report the general conference is asked for an expression of opinion on these suggestions as a basis for further negotiations. It also announced the final completion of a federal council of Methodism to finally determine, without appeal, cases of conflict by the Methodist bodies. This court is the first of its kind in the history of Christendom.

The report also outlined the relations between the Methodist and future status.

MISS WILSON AND MR. M'ADOO TO WED IN WHITE HOUSE TODAY

Miss Marjorie Brown, of Atlanta, Close Friend of Miss Wilson, Among Those Who Will Attend

(By Associated Press.)
WASHINGTON, May 7.—The career of state and the rumors of war were added to the background of the White House today when Cupid and Hyman took charge of affairs in preparation for the marriage of Miss Eleanor Randolph Wilson, youngest daughter of the president, to William G. McAdoo, secretary of the treasury.

Though the wedding was to be simple and private, the White House bustled throughout the day with preparations for the event. President Wilson canceled all appointments and did not visit the executive offices. He spent the day with the guests who were at the White House for the wedding and the affair took on the appearance of a Wilson family reunion.

CHUMS AND BRIDE-TO-BE.
The bride-to-be and her girl friends were busy all day ready for the ceremony. The six girl chums who would have been bridesmaids had the ceremony been more elaborate, were on hand to aid in the final preparations. They were Miss Helen Hunter, of Portsmouth, Va.; Miss Marjorie Brown, of Atlanta; Miss Henrietta Stadelman, of Richmond, Ind.; Miss Susan Finn and Miss Elizabeth Dunnington, of Athens, N. J.; and Mrs. Charles Kellogg, of Athens, N. J.

A troop of decorators took charge of the White House and the halls and rooms were transformed with masses of spring blossoms. The blue room, where the wedding will be performed, was particularly adorned.

Gifts for the bridal couple continued to arrive at the White House during the day and the house guests were kept busy admiring the presents. A variety of various and beautiful designs predominated in this category.

The wedding at the White House, late afternoon, will bring together many handsome gowns, and the colors of the bride and party and the limited number of guests who are to attend, chiefly the wives of the vice president and cabinet officers.

While it has been known for some time that the arrangement for the wedding was to be simple, and in contrast with some of the brilliant functions of the past, yet this has not deterred the desire of the limited few who had reason to believe they would witness the event from making early preparations for the occasion.

QUESTION OF HATS.
One troublesome question has been decided by the White House, 6 o'clock—midway between the usual requirements of an afternoon or an evening gown, and also raising the question of whether a hat was suitable to be worn at a wedding.

But these details have now been settled. The bride and her bridesmaids and the bridesmaids will wear white hats with veils. The bridesmaids will wear white hats with veils. The bridesmaids will wear white hats with veils.

Nearly all of them will wear white hats with veils. The bridesmaids will wear white hats with veils. The bridesmaids will wear white hats with veils.

Mrs. Marshall, wife of the vice president, selected a costume of white net and lace, made in the prevailing ruffled style, the skirt partly draped, with broad embroidered flounces of net, and narrower ones with lace edges. The bodice has the lace and net in a soft kimono effect.

Mrs. Bryan, wife of the secretary of state, will wear a very modish dress of white tulle, which has a large flower pattern of roses in deep shades all over it.

The draped skirt shows a petticoat in front of embroidered old rose chiffon. The chiffon is also inserted in the soft, draped waist but a line of nearly white and very fine lace, edged the V-shaped neck opening. Mrs. Bryan selected one of her small touches to wear with the dress, a becoming model in black tulle and net.

Mrs. Houston, wife of the secretary of agriculture, will wear white, a very pretty model in lace, with touches of jet made-over white. The sash and ermine are of old gold satin.

Mrs. Ladd, wife of the secretary of the interior, has chosen from among her new frocks, a stylish but simply made one of black flowered tissue over lavender chiffon. Both these gowns are made in the prevailing ruffled style, the skirt partly draped, with broad embroidered flounces of net, and narrower ones with lace edges. The bodice has the lace and net in a soft kimono effect.

INTERESTING GOSSIP OF INTERESTING PEOPLE

Fair champions of votes for women who marched in the big parade in Philadelphia Saturday afternoon are so enthusiastic because of the encouragement received from onlookers as the column swept through the streets that a delegation of Philadelphia suffragists are going to Washington next Saturday. They will join in the big national suffrage parade, and hope to leave an impression on the men who make the laws of the country.

Miss Caroline Katzenstein, representing the Philadelphia suffrage army, was immensely pleased with the success of Saturday's demonstration.

"Although I have been in a number of woman suffrage parades, in New York, Washington, and Atlantic City," she said last night, "I have never seen one better policed nor the onlookers more respectful."

"When the suffrage colors were flying from the windows of the big business houses, and from the building of a big newspaper, when the crowds along the line of march seemed decked out to honor us, the right for woman suffrage seemed to us to have been won."

"We shall not rest; instead, we are stimulated to greater efforts by the encouragement of May 2."

The splendid representation of professional and business women in the parade Saturday surprised the "antia" who had boasted that the red robes of the 1913 procession would be the scarlet shadow over the yellow flowers of the suffragists.

Many women lawyers, doctors, and a very heavy representation of teachers and college girls were in the line, and were applauded without stint. The Women's Medical college delegation was headed by Dr. Clara Marshall, dean of the college, who has long been an ardent adherent of the vote-for-women cause.

Women of Miss Monroë.
A monument is to be unveiled, dedicated to the "Women of the Confederacy," on Monday, May 11, on the capitol grounds at Raleigh, N. C. It is the bequest of the late Colonel Ashley Horne, a wealthy merchant and a farmer of Clayton, N. C.

The monument perpetuates the memory of his mother, whose six sons were in the Confederate army under General Robert E. Lee. Three fell during the Virginia campaign. Colonel Horne was with the army when it surrendered at Appomattox. He was afterward a state senator, representative in congress, and a candidate for governor of North Carolina in 1910.

The monument depicts a mother of the Confederacy, who sits with a Bible in her lap, beside her boy, who holds a sword. The sculptor is Augustus Lukeman, of New York. The president will be present and the address will be delivered by Joseph H. Ransome, the secretary of the navy.

Colonial Dames in Washington.
Mrs. William Rufus Cox, president of the Society of Colonial Dames, gave a reception in the gold room of the Shoreline hotel to the national convention of the organization which begins this morning with a general assembly room at the hotel. About 220 were present.

A meeting of the executive committee of the society was held yesterday afternoon. The convention will continue until Saturday, and between business sessions the members will enjoy social and excursion parties. Mrs. Cox announced yesterday that two of the social sessions will be held at the hotel.

McKown-Street.
Miss Ruby McKown and Mr. Claude Street were married Monday evening at the residence of Dr. John E. White.

The new pavilion nearing completion at the club members and their friends will be the first of a series of dances to last through the summer season.

Garden Party at Washington Seminary.
The garden party to be given Saturday afternoon by the Alumnae association of the Washington seminary in honor of the senior class, will be a beautiful event of the week.

Among the guests will be many of the representative men and women of the city, as well as the alumnae.

The officers of the association who will act as hostesses are Mrs. Harry Stearns, president; Mrs. William Percy, first vice president; Mrs. Alison, second vice president; Miss Irene Smith, secretary; Miss Mary King, treasurer.

Five hundred invitations have been issued.

Can You Fit a Dress On Yourself Without Help?

This is what makes home dressmaking difficult and even exasperating. You can't raise your arm to put in a pin without throwing the whole waist out of gear, can you? If only someone else were fitting it on you or you were pinning it on someone else—

There! That brings us to our story. Do you realize that there is made an exact replica of your figure which would save you all that fussing and exasperation? It makes no difference how your figure varies from the "perfect 36" or perfect anything. You may have small waist and large hips, narrow shoulders and small neck, long waist in front and short back—you may have no end of trouble with ready-to-wear garments. What we say is still true—you can find a dress form that may be adjusted in each of these measurements independently of others, a form made up of many sections delicately hinged, so that when you turn the final screw and put on a lining that fits you perfectly, you have your own figure to work on!

Hall-Borchert forms are made at these prices—$7.50, $10, $15 and $18. We want to show you—

The "Empress" adjustable Dress Form—priced at $15. Also—

The "Queen" adjustable Dress Form No. 55—priced at $18.50.

OUR

"The stars incline, but do not compel."

HORIZONE FOR
Friday, May 8, 1914.

Mercury rule for good today, according to the interpretation of astrology, while Neptune and Saturn are in malefic aspect.

The rule is especially fortunate for educators of every class, but particularly for university professors, doctors of civil law and heads of colleges.

Bishops, priests, ministers and clergymen who wield authority are subject to a favorable influence under this configuration. Changes in church organization, however, are fore-shadowed. A famous prelate of the Catholic church will cause a sensation, the seers declare.

Bankers should benefit from the stars today. They have the omens of good luck in an international enterprise involving vast amounts of money. Clothiers and dealers in woollens have the prognostication of success in the autumn.

Sculptors are under a sway which promises supreme achievement. Fame is to come to many through the Panama-Pacific exposition, and there is a sign good for natives of Philadelphia.

Printers, stationers and booksellers have a lucky omen for today. They should benefit greatly from the kindly aspect of Mercury, the seers declare.

Poets and all literary men are inspired by Mercury's aspect. It is held, however, that many through the Panama-Pacific exposition, and there is a sign good for natives of Philadelphia.

Mrs. Brookes Gives Afternoon Tea

Mrs. Walker Brookes entertained her guests at a delightful afternoon tea Thursday afternoon in her apartment on Ponce de Leon avenue, in honor of Mrs. Harry L. Milligan, of Greenville, Tenn.

The prettily appointed table was covered with a rare Venetian cloth, and had an artistic centerpiece of varicolored sweet peas in mound effect fringed with delicate maidenhair fern. Small Venetian vases filled with valley lilies were placed at intervals on the outer edge of the table joined by garlands of smilax.

White iris, pink roses and a profusion of field daisies and wild anemones adorned the table.

Mrs. Brookes received wearing a smart model of coral taffeta, and Mrs. Milligan wore a robe of black lace over white satin chamoisee.

At a meeting of the Frances Alliance at the University club, on Friday afternoon, May 8, at 2:15 o'clock, Miss Margaret McCullie will give a talk on Alfred du Menez, reciting also a number of his poems.

Mrs. Leifer will speak on the French language and the advantages foreigners derive from it.

Mrs. Leifer will close the meeting with a lecture on Juliette Gautier, daughter of Theodore Gautier.

It will be of interest to lovers of the French language to know that a comedy by Tristan Briens, will be given soon by members of the alliance.

There is a prophecy that the visit of a distinguished woman of exalted position in Europe will cause an insurrection of sensational character, ending, hinging on trivial social distinctions.

Trouble and anxiety for the king and queen of England are prophesied. Loss of popularity again is foretold.

Persons whose birthdate it is may have year of many anxieties due to litigation and difficulties with friends and partners. The heart will suffer. The neck and throat are peculiarly sensitive in subjects of Taurus.

Children born on this day are likely to be impetuous, rash and self-willed. They will be fond of travel and change. Boys will be successful in business, but they will spend too much money. One must be facile and jealous, but they probably will have great showy Vaigian, May barnet.

Kryptok Bifocals

Why We Make Kryptok Bifocals and Recommend Them

First of all because of their convenience. They give Near and Far Vision in one solid glass, doing away with two pairs of glasses.

They are more perfectly ground than any other bifocal known, no ugly seams or pieces to blister or come loose. We make them in Toric or Curved form, giving a larger field both for reading and distance.

Each pair is made to order, conforming to the face in every detail. Your best friend would never know you were on bifocals. They are absolutely invisible while on the face. They are a joy, not a discomfort. Ask some of our patients how they are pleased.

Often and often is a child in the home the tie that binds and holds the home together. And it is that same tie which prompts the desire to provide the best for the family. Hence the popularity and success of

The Bureau club will be held Friday afternoon, at 3:30 o'clock, at the University club. It will be one of the most interesting of the meetings the club holds each month.

Program for French Alliance

At a meeting of the Frances Alliance at the University club, on Friday afternoon, May 8, at 2:15 o'clock, Miss Margaret McCullie will give a talk on Alfred du Menez, reciting also a number of his poems.

Mrs. Leifer will speak on the French language and the advantages foreigners derive from it.

Mrs. Leifer will close the meeting with a lecture on Juliette Gautier, daughter of Theodore Gautier.

It will be of interest to lovers of the French language to know that a comedy by Tristan Briens, will be given soon by members of the alliance.

There is a prophecy that the visit of a distinguished woman of exalted position in Europe will cause an insurrection of sensational character, ending, hinging on trivial social distinctions.

Trouble and anxiety for the king and queen of England are prophesied. Loss of popularity again is foretold.

Persons whose birthdate it is may have year of many anxieties due to litigation and difficulties with friends and partners. The heart will suffer. The neck and throat are peculiarly sensitive in subjects of Taurus.

Children born on this day are likely to be impetuous, rash and self-willed. They will be fond of travel and change. Boys will be successful in business, but they will spend too much money. One must be facile and jealous, but they probably will have great showy Vaigian, May barnet.

LITTLE PAL---WHAT IS A HERO?

-BY LEO

THE SPORTLIGHT
BY GRANTLAND RICE

If Willie Ritchie agrees to meet Freddie Welsh—as in all fairness he should do before the summer is over—it will be a long time before another year brings as many international meetings to the front between the U. S. A. and the British empire.

A Welsh-Ritchie engagement would lift the international count to seven—the total embracing golf, tennis, relay racing, golf, polo, tennis, yachting and boxing; which happens to be a highly varied mixture and one appealing to every sportive brow, from an angle of 2 to 180 degrees.

FIVE LEFT.

Conceding the Ritchie-Welsh embargo, which may be a trifle excessive in the way of concessions, there are still five international events left. Could you the first for America and Jackson won the second for England. So the ultimate winner must take three of the five remaining stakes to reach the top.

England carries the edge in golf—about the same edge Ritchie carries over Welsh. So if G. Britain conquers over the ancient green at Sandwich, America must win in boxing and then land two out of three in the polo, tennis and yachting schedules. She has a fair margin at tennis with the polo and yachting debate too close to a toss-up to call for any forecast beyond a ribald guess.

NO CINCH.

But the widespread impression that our genial Uncle Sam has an open and shut cinch—a sportive joy ride ahead—is all out of proper focus.

England—leaving all partisanship and prejudice aside—has a fair chance to make it four out of seven, with one victory already established. The odds in golf are 4 to 1 in her favor. And it would be no crushing blow to the paring hope if she landed on top in polo and over the bounding hills in the coming yacht race.

Confidence and national pride are both all well enough, but it is just as well to dially a bit before starting to cheer for the pastrty about for the purpose of providing a place for a long row of championship cups.

PITTSBURGH AND CINCINNATI.

A number of learned noncombatants lamping Pittsburgh's rapid headway are inclined to compare the Pirate sport of 1914 to the Redland dash of 1912 when Hank O'Day was out in front around May 20 with a percentage of something like .800.

But the Reds of 1912 and the Pirates of 1914 are not exactly one and the same. To begin with, Hank O'Day was not a Fred Clark by several agile jumps. Also Hank never had the ball club that season which Charlie is now ramming on out on highway. He was not as strong in any department—and the Reds were shy the old pennant tradition which Pittsburgh carries. Pittsburgh hasn't won the pennant by several battles. But her ball club is pretty sure to be in the hunt nine-tenths of the journey, even if she skids somewhat before the finish.

ST. LOUIS LUCK.

Being president of Mexico may have its drawbacks, but compared to being owner of the St. Louis Browns the job is an utter cinch.

For about ten or twelve years Mr. Hedges has been up and engaged in assembling a regular ball club, one capable of enticing out enough fans to pay a portion of the expenses.

And then when he finally assembles enough talent to make a good showing in the first month of hostilities—a showing that ordinarily would have tripled his average turnstile output—another league cuts in and collects the overdue tale. It's a great little life, taken here and there.

NO JOE WOOD RECORD.

From now out Walter Johnson may travel at the fastest known pitching clip, but he's little or no chance to equal the Joe Wood record of 1912. That season the Red Sox premier worked 38 games, winning 35 and losing only 5. Johnson has dropped 3 of his first five starts and to equal Wood's mark he would be forced to win 31 out of his next 33 games.

The robust hammering that Johnson has received is only addition to the queer upsets of this mildewed spring. The Red Sox, with a club batting average of about .80, hit him savagely and the Mackmen hit him even harder. Still, as we matter along to press, no report has been received that Griff had requested waivers or that Walter had purchased a one way ticket back to Weiser, Idaho.

FRISK US.

"What show," queries an earnest bystander, "have the Yanks to finish in the first division?"

If the Yanks can finish fifth no one can say that Frank Chance hasn't earned his pay. To finish in the first division they must beat out from present indications, Boston, Chicago, St. Louis and Cleveland. As to any set reply of a more definite nature—see heading over this paragraph.

If the Red Sox don't finish as high as third this season they should be ashamed to look a baseball in the trade mark. It won't be because the material isn't there, but either because it isn't rightly handled and driven or because it is willing to pike along without overexertion.

A ball club with three star outfielders, five crack pitchers and two fine catchers, although its infield is only average, should finish somewhere close around the crest.

Two Games on
At Ponce Today

Following the drawn battle between the Crackers and Lookouts at Ponce de Leon Wednesday afternoon, the two teams will engage in a double-header this afternoon, the first game beginning at 2:30 o'clock. No definite announcement of batteries has been made, but it is likely that Manager Smith will choose from Dent, Efrd and Perryman, while McCormick has Fox, who has not shown here yet, and Rine, who went only a hit more than two innings Wednesday. He may use Harding again, since the tall fellow got away with the home Tuesday. Knob, who struck south-paw, is not with the team here.

Merchants to Declare Half-Holiday Friday for First Battle—Special Trains From Many Points — "Tubby" Groves Will Umpire Series at Athens

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
ATHENS, Ga., May 7.—Athens is preparing for gala times on Friday and Saturday when the Georgia Tech boys come over to engage the University of Georgia team in baseball. You can hear nothing on the streets but talk of the coming games and much more than ordinary interest is manifested over these games since the southern championship will be decided between Georgia and Tech this year.

For the first time in history the Athens business men will close their doors on Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock and declare half holiday. Not only that, but the railroads have taken it up and the railroads have taken it up and the railroads will come up from Mill-jedeville over the Central of Georgia, one from Augusta over the Georgia road from Gainesville and points north over the Gainesville Midland and Southern roads and one from Atlanta over the Seaboard.

The athletic authorities have been fixing up Sanford field in order to handle the crowds for the two days and have increased the seating capacity by about 1,000 by building two temporary bleachers. Nothing is being overlooked in preparation for these games, since from time immemorial the biggest games of the year are when Georgia locks horns with Tech.

Coach Joe Beck has been giving his men extra practices in order to get them in trim and on edge for the Yellow Jackets, so it is quite a problem as to who will be stung when it is all over. Hitchcock will probably open the series and show the Jackets what the latest is in hurling. Torbett will catch, there will be no change in the regular line up.

Henderson, 1b; Harrison, 2b; Clements, 3b; Holden, Owens, cf; McWhorter, c; and Glin, if (Captain).

Coach D. V. Graves, of Alabama, will do the umpiring during these games. The tickets have already been placed on sale and many seats in the grand stand and boxes have already been reserved. The general admission has also taken a boom in the advance sale. These games will undoubtedly be attended by the largest crowds that have ever seen any games in this city. After these two games in Athens, Georgia, will travel over to Atlanta to play Tech in their own back yard on Friday and Saturday of next week.

All-Star Boxing Show to Be Staged at Orpheum Theater During Shriners' Convention—Nelson May Face Abel in Semi-Final

A monster boxing show is going to be staged at the Orpheum theater next Wednesday night for the Shriners and Atlanta fans. There will probably be over forty rounds of milling. The main event will be a ten-round bout between Jimmie Perry, the slugging Pittsburgh boy, and Eddie Hanlon, Atlanta's candidate for the middleweight title.

These lads were matched a few months ago, but Hanlon had to call off the match on account of sickness. Eddie is confident he can not only beat but stop Perry. Jimmie, however, showed marked improvement in his work here when he stopped "Stew" Donnelly three rounds.

Perry will arrive in the city Saturday morning. Hanlon has started work and declares that he will either beat Perry or retire from the game.

Promoter Lou Castro plans to stage Jerry Nelson, the fighting Greek, and Dave Abel, of Chattanooga. In another ten-round session, Terry claims he can stop Abel now, although Jack defeated him in forty-one rounds of a finisher held here two years ago at a private club.

All the other local cracks will be given an opportunity to display their wares in rope and six-round affairs. After there will be a battle royal.

Motorcycles in Big Hill Climb

Judging by the present outlook, the motorcycles will give the automobiles a severe tussle for honors next Saturday afternoon, at the Stewart Avenue Hill Climb, which starts promptly at 1 p. m. There are several machines coming from out of town and it will be up to the local boys to see that the club do not leave Atlanta.

Halving the Second

By Innis Brown

The sun of another day sat on the cracklers and Lookouts pitched in deadly combat at Ponce de Leon Wednesday afternoon, and the former have still to win a battle from the latter after eleven innings of strenuous battling. Umpire Rudersham spent the usual for the curtain on the third of approaching darkness, and the score stood 4-1.

Benton Hurls Well; Reds Win

ST. LOUIS, Mo., May 7.—Benton was invincible with arm on base Wednesday, while his teammates hit Salles and Steele when counted and Cincinnati won from St. Louis 3 to 2. St. Louis had the bases full on two occasions with but one out, but the count was not forthcoming.

Adams Pitches Two-Hit Game

PITTSBURGH, Pa., May 7.—Adams pitched a two-hit game today, allowing only one run in the ninth. The Gulls, who had won the first game, also made the first home run in the series.

Marion Wins Game

GREENSBORO, Ala., May 7.—Marion won the first game of the series today, defeating the Athletics. The Gulls, who had won the first game, also made the first home run in the series.

POULTRY, PIGEONS AND LIVE STOCK

White Diarrhoea.

The most dreaded disease, white diarrhoea, has been making many thousands of chickens every year. Fortunately the south has not been so much troubled by this disease as the north and west. It has been a serious handicap to hundreds of poultrymen, and one of the chief causes of a scarcity of young birds. This season it has appeared again and it will be almost impossible to raise chickens in large quantities. More of it is reported over the south than I have ever known before, and it simply means a short poultry crop this year.

There are various causes for white diarrhoea. The United States government has been making many tests to try to find out the cause, and a remedy. It is a known fact, however, that it is contagious. It is usually carried from the incubator or brooder to the hatched chicks on the shell to the chick, and the incubator. It is a very simple disease, and it has been here heretofore. However, I do not believe anyone will have any trouble in the respect if they will use every precaution and do not get it in their flock of chickens.

The first experience I ever had with this trouble was in a lot of 200 day-old chicks that were shipped to me six years ago from a big estate breeder. I believe this bunch of chicks was overfed in transit, and less than five per cent of these chicks were raised to day-old chicks. I believe it is contagious. It is usually carried from the incubator or brooder to the hatched chicks on the shell to the chick, and the incubator. It is a very simple disease, and it has been here heretofore. However, I do not believe anyone will have any trouble in the respect if they will use every precaution and do not get it in their flock of chickens.

Nearly every week I get a dozen or more letters from people who are having this trouble. I believe that the safest and best thing to do is to kill and destroy any bunch of chicks in contact with the infected ones. I think by disinfecting the eggs, keeping the incubators thoroughly clean and dry, and by avoiding this disease, it can be prevented. If a bunch of chicks ever get overfed or chilled they will have more or less of this trouble, but not genuine white diarrhoea. And a slight attack for a few days will not hurt them, but it will have more or less of this trouble, but not genuine white diarrhoea. And a slight attack for a few days will not hurt them, but it will have more or less of this trouble, but not genuine white diarrhoea.

Another thing, no feed should be allowed on the floor where the little chickens can walk over it and contaminate the feed for the chickens to eat. This is one of the most important things for raising chicks, is to remove all of the surplus food directly after they are through eating, and never allow it to remain before them. It will get sour or mouldy and become filthy, and if the chickens eat it, it will have more or less of this trouble, but not genuine white diarrhoea. And a slight attack for a few days will not hurt them, but it will have more or less of this trouble, but not genuine white diarrhoea.

Yours very truly,

W. H. HASTINGS & CO.

HARRIS TO OPEN HIS RACE AT CEDARTOWNChairman States That He Will Not at This Time Call Committee Meeting

BY RALPH SMITH.

WASHINGTON, May 7.—William J. Harris, chairman of the Democratic executive committee, will open his campaign for governor at Cedartown, Polk county, within the next two weeks. He will make announcement of his candidacy at that time.

"I have decided to announce my candidacy and open my campaign at the same time," he said this morning. "I have chosen my home county of Polk to make my formal announcement, and am arranging to make a speech at Cedartown within two weeks."

Mr. Harris stated this morning that the members of the state executive committee have not taken kindly to his suggestion for another meeting of the committee to revise the rules to govern the August primary.

"The response," he said, "indicate that many members of the committee are opposed to changing the rules. I regret their attitude, and hope that they will yet see the justice of my suggestion."

"When you call a meeting of the committee, notwithstanding the unfavorable attitude of the committee membership," he was asked.

"Not at this time," he said. "When asked who would be his attitude the state chairman intimated that he would appeal directly to the people. I believe that the sentiment of Georgia is favorable to a revision of the rules," he said. "I believe the committee will be forced to act in response to the demand of the people."
